Baltimore is making a strong effort to get one or both of the big national political conventions which are to be held next year. Well, as the central West has formed somewhat of a trust on these large gatherings for several years past, we hope Baltimore will secure at least one of them next year.

The New York Post is of the opinion that Judge Parker's greetings in Georgia as "our next president" will not ruffle his judicial claim. LIGHTING CONTRACT.

Audit and Finance Board Declined to Concur in Award by Board of Aldermen.

MEETING HELD YESTERDAY.

Appropriation of $20,000 for Permanent Street Improvements Concurred in. Several Matters Deferred, Including Money for Park.

By a vote of two to one the Board of Audit and Finance yesterday afternoon decided not to concur in the award of the city lighting contract to the Turrentine Light Co. as recommended by the Aldermen and the matter now goes back to the latter Board for another disposition. Messrs. Yates and Orrell voted not to concur, Mr. Wilder voted for concurrence, Chairman McQueen was, of course, not required to vote and Mr. S. P. McNair was out of the city. The matter was easily the most important before the meeting yesterday afternoon. President Hugh MacRae, General Manager A. B. Skelding, of the C. R., L. & P. Co.; Mr. Jno. R. Turrentine, Jr., of the Turrentine Light Co., and Mr. F. E. Hashagen, chairman of the committee on lights from the Board of Aldermen, were present, in addition to members of the Board of Audit and Finance mentioned. Mr. Turrentine was heard in behalf of his proposition to instal 125 Kitson lamps to take the place of the present enclosed arc system. He offered to give bond for the maintenance of his contract and the efficiency of the lamps and said the percentage of deterioration in the value of the plant would be only about 2 per cent.; that the minimum cost of "wear and tear" was one of the strong points in favor of the Kitson lamp. The city, he said, could buy the Kitson system, use them for three years on the basis of his proposition, then destroy them and still save money from present contracts for the arc lights.

Mr. MacRae spoke against the proposition in favor of arc lighting, saying that the percentage of deterioration in all machinery he had knowledge of was at least 10 per cent. Three plants had been used up in Wilmington during the last decade and in 15 years no company had made any money from the city lighting contract. He also argued against municipal ownership of a plant, saying very few cities try to operate their plants now. They are subject every few years to change in management with each new political administration and no enterprise could succeed under similar conditions.

Mr. Turrentine, in reply, said that over 5,500 of the Kitson lamps are now in use in Baltimore and in New York city the company pays operating expenses of more than $10,000 per week for lamps owned by that municipality.

Mr. Skelding said if the enclosed arc lamps now in use on the streets had not given satisfaction he was not aware of it. Although the contract only called for a moonlight schedule, nine lamps in important districts were kept burning all the time.

When the arguments had been concluded Chairman McQueen said the question before the Board was whether to approve or disapprove the award by the Aldermen. Mr. Wilder moved to concur in the award by the Aldermen, but his motion failed to meet with a second. Mr. Yates moved for non-concurrence, with the result stated above.

Chairman McQueen asked Mr. MacRae if the C. R., L. & P. Co. would continue the lights now being furnished until the Aldermen take further action. Mr. MacRae said that Mr. Skelding had agreed to something of that kind before the Board of Aldermen meeting in his absence, and that while the company was not disposed to deal arbitrarily with the city, it was not business to continue such an arrangement indefinitely without a yearly contract. He said he presumed the Board of Aldermen would get together and attend to the matter speedily.

The bid of the C. R., L. & P. Co. this year was the same as last, and it is reasonable to suppose that the same bid will be submitted again when the Aldermen meet to consider the matter.

The license tax ordinance, which had been further abridged by the Aldermen by striking out certain sections, was referred again to that Board, with the information that the Board of Audit and Finance would approve it just as it had passed it before; that while some of the sections might be obsolete, they would do no harm by remaining in force.

Upon report of the chairman, the Board declined to approve bills of A. D. Wessell and estate of the late H. VonGlahn for damage to their property by reason of excavations and street repair on Fifth, between Market and Dock streets.

After lengthy discussion of the matter, an appropriation of $20,000 for permanent street improvements was concurred in with the understanding that if an additional amount can be appropriated for that purpose it will be done. Last year, including a balance on the Princess street paving and the building of Fifth street bridge, only about $28,500 was expended during the year. While it is estimated that the increased valuation of real estate in the city this year will be from a half to three-quarters of a million dollars, it was also taken into consideration that the rate has been reduced and the amount of revenue will be about the same as usual. Confidence was expressed in the Streets and Wharves Committee of the Board of Aldermen, and Mr. Yates especially favored making the appropriation as large as possible, so that material could be purchased in larger quantities and, therefore, at a minimum rate.

Bill of W. B. Dukes for eight day's care of the oil lights in June was deferred for information. Bills of City Attorney Bellamy, for extra appearance in certain suits were also deferred for further information. The bills amount to $190 as follows: City vs. Worth in dray badge suit, $25; Hullen vs. City, $100.00; expenses to Raleigh in election matter during May, $15, and professional services therein, $50.

The appropriation of $500 by the Aldermen for the building of accommodations for Summer excursionists was deferred for further information as to locality, cost, etc.

HEAVY CARGO OF ROSIN.

Perhaps Largest Ever Cleared from Wilmington on Sailing Craft—A Brig Ashore—Schooner Arrives.

The Norwegian barque "Kotka", 857 tons, Capt. Eriksen, cleared yesterday for London with perhaps the largest cargo of rosin for foreign export ever shipped from Wilmington on a sailing craft; certainly the largest during the past six or eight years. She carried 9,586 barrels, valued at $18,061 and consigned by Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co. to parties in London, Eng. The usual cargoes on barques from Wilmington range from 3,000 to 6,500 barrels but the "Kotka" broke the record with about twice the average consignment. The same vessel was here in June last year and carried the next largest cargo—9,530 barrels, consigned by Murchison & Co. The vessel went down the river yesterday drawing 19 feet 10 inches of water.

The large four-masted schooner "Bradford C. French," 968 tons, Capt. Rogers, arrived yesterday from Philadelphia and will receive a cargo of cross ties for Boston from the B. F. Keith Co.

Telegrams from Southport yesterday brought news to tug boat owners that an unknown brig was reported ashore on Frying Pan shoals. Later a telegram stated that the brig had floated without assistance and was on her way in. She subsequently proved to be the brig "Sullivan," 295 tons, Capt. McNeil, bound to Wilmington for cargo. She arrived at anchor at Southport at 8 P. M. She sustained no damage whatever by grounding.

BIG TEMPERANCE MEETING TO-NIGHT.

Delegates Back from State Convention. Address by Rev. W. M. Vines.

Revs. Geo. B. Webster, Jno. R. Marshall, J. A. Smith, C. B. Paul and Mr. Jno. G. Marshall, who composed Wilmington's delegation to the big temperance convention at Raleigh this week, returned home yesterday and report a most enthusiastic and largely attended meeting. Eighty of the 96 counties in the State were represented by over 200 delegates. Mr. W. H. Sprunt, of Wilmington, was elected a member of the Central Executive Committee, into the hands of which was placed $3,000 and a pledge of $2,000 for the purpose of placing two men in the field for active campaign work.

The delegation will probably report to-night at a meeting of the Anti-Saloon League in the main auditorium of the First Baptist church. The principal speaker at the meeting will be the Rev. W. M. Vines, of Asheville, and the public is cordially invited to hear him. Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure will preside and a programme of attractive music has been arranged by the W. C. T. U. The meeting was changed from the lecture room to the main auditorium of the church to accommodate the large crowd that will undoubtedly hear Rev. Mr. Vines.

ALMOST DROWNED IN THE SURF.

Narrow Escape of Wilson Man and Wife at Wrightsville Beach Yesterday.

Mr. W. A. Hartsfield and wife, of Wilson, had a narrow escape from drowning while in surf bathing in front of the Ocean View hotel at Wrightsville beach early yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hartsfield became excited when she was knocked down by a breaker and her husband rushed to her assistance. The two were about to be drowned when Mr. Walter Lancaster, of Wilson, saw their danger and rushing in, pulled them to the shore. Mrs. Hartsfield was on the verge of a nervous collapse and was attended by Dr. G. W. Lewis, of Fremont, who was among those who came down on the excursion with Mr. and Mrs. Hartsfield. Mr. Hartsfield is a well known jeweler of Wilson.

CITY OF WILMINGTON

Impressions of a Visiting Editor Upon Occasion of Recent Press Convention.

DURHAM SUN'S COMMENT.

Commercial Present and Future of North Carolina's Chief Seaport Interestingly Treated in an Editorial. Our Vast Resources, Etc.

Editor J. A. Robinson, of the Durham Sun, who attended the Press convention at Wrightsville last week, writes of Wilmington in his editorial columns as follows:

"Every visit made to Wilmington reveals the fact that our hospitable city on the Cape Fear, is developing in importance and making improvements that tend to give her great importance as a Southern port. This is gratifying to North Carolinians, who have a patriotic pride in the growth and progress of every section of our State.

"Mr. Iredell Meares, an exceedingly talented and affable member of the Wilmington bar, delivered the address of welcome to the editors at Wrightsville Beach, at their recent meeting, and in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, and the people of Wilmington, it was a real pleasure to hear his words of encouragement, and his facts and figures on the volume of business done at that port were as interesting as they were astonishing to those who had not given the matter more careful attention. A great future is ahead of Wilmington, and her climate and advantages are year by year being recognized in an ever widening circle. The fact that Wilmington does a business of $32,000,000 a year was a surprise to many—and a very gratifying surprise. This port annually exports 320,000 bales of cotton and does a cotton business of $15,000,000 a year. In the matter of trucking, the one item of strawberries alone, in a radius of eighty miles, developed the fact that 5,000,000 crates were shipped, and there was distributed among the growers $750,000 a season. The city is the headquarters of a great railway system—the Atlantic Coast Line—one of the most magnificent financial institutions in the country. It is also the terminus of the Seaboard Air Line, another splendid road, which will eventually have a coaling station at Southport.

"The condition of the water at the bar on the Cape Fear—27 feet at low tide and from 32 to 33 feet in the channel between Wilmington and the sea—gives a most gratifying outlook for a vast amount of business. The trucking business in that section is said to be in its infancy, and is yearly growing in importance. The people are fast beginning to realize the possibilities within their reach for a great, active and prosperous community, and the years to come will give Wilmington and her various Summer resorts a place in the front ranks of a grand community of commercial interests. The city and its tributary waters are full of historic lore which is weaving itself into the warp and woof of a busy, active commercial fabric. Her people are patriotic and hospitable to a marked degree. Her climate, it has been demonstrated, is the most salubrious this side of New Orleans, and possesses many of the elements of that of Florida. It is a grand old city, with grand people, and it is a source of pride to every native of the State to see the seaside city coming up the pathway of progress and pushing herself in the forefront of commercial importance—a place she should have held years ago.

"The Sun finds great pleasure in visiting Wilmington occasionally and mingling with her people, and witnessing the developments she makes along all lines. It increases our pride in the historic place."

PRETTY WEDDING LAST NIGHT.

Miss Janie Farrow Wedded by Mr. John Johnston at 9 O'clock.

Vipperman, united in marriage Miss Janie Farrow, the accomplished young daughter of Mrs. Augusta Farrow, and Mr. John Johnston, a popular employe of the C. R., L. & P. Co. A few friends were present to witness the happy event and following the ceremony the guests repaired to the attractive home of the bride's mother, on Fifth, near Campbell street, where a reception was held, during the progress of which delicious refreshments were served.

The only attendant at the wedding was Miss May Farrow, sister of the bride, who served very gracefully as maid of honor. The bride was stylishly costumed in a pretty gown of white organdie. A number of pretty and useful wedding gifts were received.

THE PAPER MILL PROJECT.

Mobile Register Gives Interesting Figures as to Very Promising Industry.

The following from the Mobile Register will serve to throw additional light upon the scheme to manufacture paper pulp from the refuse product of saw mills, which has been discussed from time to time in these columns:

"In every saw mill cutting on average 100,000 feet of lumber a day there is a minimum of twenty-five tons of waste a day that is burned in the slab fire. The majority of the Southern saw mills are situated on the banks of some stream where logs may be transported at a minimum of expense.

"Each saw mill of the yellow pine section in the South sawing 75,000 feet daily and situated on a running stream of soft water can introduce a paper pulp mill averaging from 25 to 50 tons daily capacity and they can absolutely figure on 20 tons a day, at a cost of not over $1 per ton. This would be the cost of pulpifying the slabs, sawdust and refuse matter. In the course of its logging operations this material would not cost more than $1.25 per ton. Paper pulp at the very outside would cost $6 per ton placed on the cars, and the lowest grades are now worth 3½ cents a pound, showing a fine profit all from what is now a waste in the yellow pine industry."

WILLIAM H. BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

NOT BIG ENOUGH FOR THE PLACE.

The Savannah News says: It is admitted that Mr. Charles M. Schwab has practically withdrawn from the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation, generally known as the billion dollar steel trust. His withdrawal is the subject of a great deal of editorial comment, and naturally so. He is only about 40 years of age, and when he was made president of the great corporation the newspapers in all parts of the country pointed to him as an example of what could be accomplished by courage, persistence, thrift and close application to business. The attention of the young men of the land was called to him, and they were told that if they would imitate his virtues they could hardly fail to succeed.

What the newspapers said was well enough, but they failed to take into account the fact that he might not succeed in his new position; that he might not prove to be capable of bearing the responsibilities connected with it. He started off all right, as soon as he got into harness, as it were, but he did not fulfill the expectations that were entertained of him. As a matter of fact the position was too big for him. It unsettled him, and, as a consequence, he began to show that lack of level-headedness so necessary to a man at the head of a great industrial enterprise. While he was a subordinate, and had Mr. Carnegie to lean upon, he was capable of accomplishing great things. When he was thrown upon his own resources he discovered that he was out of his depth.

Mr. Schwab's antics in Europe a few months ago made the European stockholders of the Steel Trust uneasy, and his connection with the United States Shipbuilding Company impaired the confidence of the Americans of the trust in him. It is said that the stockholders generally came to the conclusion that he was not the man to direct the affairs of the greatest industrial combination in the world. Therefore the finance committee of the Steel Trust was practically forced to retire Mr. Schwab and put a man in his place in whom the stockholders had confidence.

Of course, Mr. Schwab is nominally the head of the corporation yet, but the man who has been made his assistant is authorized to do all things it is necessary for the president to do without consulting Mr. Schwab. That is only an easy way of letting Mr. Schwab down. Doubtless he will be out of the Steel Trust management altogether in a very short time.

MORE DISCRIMINATION BY FRANCE.

The French Chamber of Deputies has just voted largely to increase the duties on cattle and fresh meat, says the Philadelphia Press, the rates to be one-third higher on such articles coming from the United States as compared with any other country, excepting Portugal, which does not produce them. That is the effect of the French maximum tariff.

It will not particularly affect this country at this time, for the reason that France long ago excluded such articles when produced in the United States by discriminating heavily against them. Although the United States purchases a great deal more of France than that country takes of American products, nothing is said about this heavy discriminating tariff against this country. Discrimination by means of a maximum and minimum tariff, though very radical, does not meet with the same rebuff that would follow any other kind of discrimination.

The United States is apparently helpless, under France's discrimination, though it is applied to no other important commercial nation. What the United States needs is a maximum and minimum tariff of its own to meet such unfair treatment as that accorded by France, which country has the same privileges in our market as any other nation.

The cable from San Francisco to Manila has been completed at last and the globe is now belted without break.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equalled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For fifteen years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me, though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters, and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. †

A MILLION IMMIGRANTS.

It is estimated that in the 12 months ended with June about 1,000,000 immigrants flocked to our shores to share in our glorious liberties and partake of our large wage fund. If they brought with them on an average $10 apiece, and that is a moderate estimate—they added $10,000,000 to our money supply. In May the influx was 145,000 persons, an increase of 17 per cent. over 1902. The year makes a new record, exceeding even the figure for 1882, when 789,000 came over. Not a few of the newcomers settled in the Atlantic coast region, but it is believed that the great majority went West to speed the development of that section. To take them West—if all had gone West—would require 20,000 passenger cars, to say nothing of baggage and freight cars for their belongings.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— There is hardly a trip of the great Atlantic steamers that is unaccompanied by a gambling scandal. It is about time the owners put a stop to gambling in every form. It is the only safe way. Scores of sharpers make a fine living by cheating "easy" passengers who have more money than brains.—Springfield (Mass.) Union.

—— It is said that Gov. Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, does not read the newspapers. That is easy to believe. Only a short while ago, in justification of his press-muzzler law, he said something about people having been hung, drawn and quartered a hundred years ago for daring to criticise public officials; which indicates that he is about that far behind the times. But, if he doesn't read the newspapers, somebody might at least send him a calendar so he could see what year it is he is living in.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— Four Congressmen have figured in government contract scandals in the past two weeks. One is under indictment. The evidence against the others is documentary. More may follow. In such matters the law is plain and strict. A representative in Congress has no right to profit from a government contract. If he does he is subject to heavy penalties and to removals. Unfortunately in recent years we have come upon an era of easy oaths and loose observance. Congressmen have misused their office and their opportunities. Now a few are being caught. The severe punishment of these wrong-doers would have a very salutary effect in Washington.—Baltimore Herald, Ind.

— Kinston Free Press: Kinston has a veritable snake charmer in the person of young Albert Chandler, who works for the telephone company. Young Chandler seems absolutely fearless of his pets, and takes great pleasure in fooling with them.

— The new saloon laws passed by the Durham aldermen went into effect Tuesday. Under the new laws all saloons must close at eight o'clock every night and not open earlier than six o'clock the following morning. All back doors and side doors are done away with. Screens and partitions and other obstructions must come down. No lunches are allowed to be given or sold and no obscene pictures or paintings are allowed upon the walls of the saloon. During the hours that the saloon is closed no one, not even the proprietor or his clerks, are allowed inside the saloon and a large light must be kept burning so that a person can see the interior of the room at all times. For violation of any one or portion of these ordinances the offender is punishable by a fine of $50 and he has to appear before the board of aldermen and then show cause why his license shall not be revoked.

— Pilot Mountain News: As was mentioned in these columns last week, Cap King was murdered near Quaker Gap, in Stokes county, and supposedly by John Rhodes, but from the developments it seems that there were others implicated in it. It has developed that King was shot from two directions and by guns of different bore. Rhodes' gun being 12 gauge and the other 16 gauge and presumably killed him as the other shot would not have produced instant death. The 16-gauge gun was owned by a Mr. Cook near whose store the murder was committed and who has since fled the country or is a fugitive from justice. Rhodes has never been arrested and is in hiding or has left the State. Jones who was implicated in it has been bound over to the next term of court. It is the opinion of several with whom we have talked that it was a concocted scheme to murder King and that it was done from ambush by Cook and Rhodes. It will be very apt to go pretty hard with the gentlemen if apprehended.

Rheumacide

Continues to make Miraculous Cures

READ THIS LETTER:

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

DILLON, S. C., Aug. 18th, 1902.

Gentlemen:—In September, 1899, I took rheumatism in a very bad form. In a month after the disease started I had to give up my work and go to bed. It continued to grow worse until my arms and hands were badly drawn, so much so that I could not use them. My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips. I was as helpless as a baby for nearly twelve months. The muscles of my arms and legs were hard and shriveled up. I suffered death many times over. Was treated by six different physicians in McColl, Dillon and Marion, but none of them could do me any good, until Dr. J. P. Ewing, of Dillon, came to see me. He told me to try your "RHEUMACIDE." He got me one bottle of the medicine and I began to take it and before the first bottle was used up I began to get better. I used five and a half bottles and was completely cured. That was two years ago, and my health has been excellent ever since. Have had no symptoms of rheumatism. I regard "RHEUMACIDE" as by far the best remedy for rheumatism on the market. I cannot say too much for it. I have recommended it to others since and it has cured them.

Will say further, that I began to walk in about six days after I began to take "RHEUMACIDE," with the aid of crutches; in about three months after I began to take it, I could walk as good as anybody, and went back to work again.

Very truly, JAMES WILKES.

A Mysterious Disappearance.

The disappearance of Benjamin Bathurst, a kinsman of Lord Bathurst, has never been explained. Bathurst was sent on a secret mission to Vienna at the time that England, before opening the peninsula campaign, sought to persuade Austria to declare by way of distraction war against France. Austria soon after crossed the French frontier, and Bathurst received hints of threatened personal doom. Hoping to avoid examination, he took a northerly route in returning to England, and on reaching Perleberg, in Brandenburg, he visited in his agitation the commandant of cuirassiers, requesting that sentries might mount guard at the inn where he stopped. These were supplied, and Bathurst spent the day in writing and destroying letters.

Shortly before his carriage came to the door in the dusk of a November evening he told some troopers who escorted him that they might withdraw. While all the household was on the alert to see him off he walked beyond the circle of the lantern glare and was lost to sight at the head of the horses. This occurred on Nov. 25, 1809, and Bathurst was never seen or heard of more, notwithstanding that England offered £2,000 reward and Prussia 100 Friedrichs d'or for the discovery even of his remains.

What He Really Said.

A gentleman calling on an M. P. one day while waiting in the reception room was attracted by the manner of the small attendant and started a random conversation.

"And how much do you earn a week, my boy," he inquired.

"Ten pounds," said the youngster with avidity.

Being shown into the member's private office just then, the visitor's surprise found vent in words.

"Mighty bright youth you have there to be getting £10 a week," he remarked.

"Why," said the M. P., "he only gets 22 shillings."

"But he told me just now you were giving him £10 a week," persisted the gentleman.

"Nonsense," said the M. P., and he touched the bell. "Billy," he said, "did you tell this gentleman I was paying you £10 a week?"

"No, sir."

"You didn't? Well, what did you say?"

"I said I earned it," was the prompt and stout rejoinder.

Dainty Chairs.

A firm of upholsterers became so busy that they could no longer keep pace with the work they had to do, so they called on a little jobbing cabinet maker and asked him if he would make half a dozen chairs for them by a certain date.

The man took the order and lost but little time in executing it and still less time in obtaining the money for them. The work, however, turned out to be a failure, and the firm sent for the man and exposed to his view quite a heap of the various limbs that go to make a chair.

The practical joiner gave a look of surprise and proceeded to pick up the pieces and place them together without saying a word.

Presently he laid the pieces back again in a heap and, looking at them, exclaimed in a most emphatic manner, "Why, those chairs must have been sat on!"—Kansas City Independent.

For the Removal of Tattooing.

Those who have been tattooed and who regret it may, says a writer in Cosmos, succeed in ridding themselves of these marks by the following process: Pour on the tattooed portion a concentrated solution of tannin, then by means of a needle analogous to that of the tattooer prick the surface and then rub hard with a nitrate of silver pencil. There is formed a slough which falls at the end of fourteen or eighteen days, and the operation leaves only a slight scar, which at the end of two months is invisible.

Bismarck and Grant.

Sidney Whitman in his "Personal Reminiscences of Prince Bismarck" says:

"Bismarck's intimate friendship with Motley, the historian, is well known. He was also particularly attached to George Bancroft, so that when it became a question of Bancroft being recalled from his post of United States minister at Berlin Bismarck wrote specially to his friend Motley and begged him to intercede with the president to allow Bancroft to remain, and he did remain.

"Bismarck told me that when General Grant came to Berlin he accompanied him to see one of the reviews at the Tempelhofer feld. Grant was not well that day, and they had to drive out in a closed carriage. Grant looked downcast and told Bismarck that it worried him to think that he was to meet the Prussian soldiers sitting cuddled up in a carriage like any ordinary civilian. 'Never you mind that, General Grant,' Bismarck said. 'You may sit here hidden from view, but our soldiers are well aware what sort of fighting man is in this closed carriage.'"

A Parable Impeached.

The parable of the wise man who built his house upon a rock and of the other man who built on the sands was uttered before the "house with modern improvements" had made its appearance or modern sanitary science had been evolved. A rock foundation is unimpeachable for stability, but it may be very bad when it comes to a matter of drainage, whether it be for the disposal of sewage or of surface or ground water. A cellar excavated in the rock is usually a wet cellar, because the water leeches through the crevices and seams in the rock, and it is both difficult and expensive to trench and drain properly about the walls of a building in a medium so hard to excavate. To be sure, if the rock drops away quickly on a sharp grade this difficulty may be altogether a minor one. A good gravel soil is one of the best to build upon in respect both to drainage and to the stability of the house, and compact sand, if not subject to the action of running water, is a most excellent foundation and a thoroughly good medium.—Cosmopolitan Magazine.

What Holds the Novel.

Frank Norris, author of "The Octopus" and "The Pit," was a most virile writer and a man of decided opinions. He was wont to say of the great factors in molding public opinion that "the pulpit speaks but once a week, the press is read with lightning haste and the morning news is waste paper by noon; but the novel goes in the home to stay."

This opinion was aired by Mr. Norris in the lobby of a hotel in a small town in Illinois. Among those present was a country editor, who was prompted to remark that the novelist's views reminded him of his dog Wolf. Wolf persisted in running away from home, killing chickens and annoying children in the community. At last a method was adopted by which the dog was confined to his own homestead.

"Chained him, eh?" was the thought voiced by several of the company.

"Yes, sir," declared the editor. "And if your modern novel goes into the home to stay let Wolf remind you that it's on account of the binding."

Political Economists.

While great fortunes and great industries have almost invariably been created by uneducated men, parvenus unembarrassed with learning, who taught themselves what they found necessary to know, we find, on the other hand, that those men who have made commercial science, political economy, their study have not shown any success in business and have remained theorists. Most political economists have had to live on their pen. Mr. Cobden went bankrupt in business. It is true that Ricardo was well off, but he was a stockbroker by trade, and with him political economy was only a hobby, not a serious result. It is strange how few business men of the first rank have a good word to say of political economy.—Nineteenth Century.

Pocketing a Fee.

For a whole year the famous English physician, Dr. Radcliffe, attended a friend without a single fee passing between them. As he was leaving after his last visit the patient said: "Here, doctor, is a purse in which I have put every day's fee. You must not let your kindness get the better of my gratitude; so please take it." The generous physician put out his hand to reject the purse, but the chink of the gold was too much for his amiable resolution, so he put it in his pocket, saying, "Singly, sir, I could have refused them forever, but all together I am afraid they are irresistible."

COTTON MARKETS

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of seven to eighteen points and during the entire session ruled very nervous and irregular, showing sudden spurts of activity coupled with strength or weakness as now the bulls and then the bears gained temporary ascendency in the struggle for control. At the beginning it looked as though the bulls had turned the tables on the Wall street contingent and were to have all the best of it. The cables were considerably better than expected and immediately following the opening prices here were forced still further upwards, gaining another four to thirteen points under a renewal of the covering noted yesterday afternoon and fresh bull support. The bulls were evidently making a strong effort to re establish their position, but they were met with determined selling on the part of their opponents, and after August had reached 11.48, September 10.59, October 9.86 and December 9.64 the bears sold very aggressively, carrying prices downward from the best of the morning from eleven to twenty-two points. Then the bulls again bought more vigorously and sales were forced back to about the opening level. Following this the market was very irregular. Right after midday there was a sudden burst of bearish activity that forced prices down to the lowest point of the session, the general list showing a net loss from five to nine points on the active months. But again the bulls came to the support of values as the selling diminished and brought about a partial reaction; only to meet with further bear pressure which in turn gave way just before the close to active support supposed to originate with the New Orleans pool, which caused the market to turn firm again and the close was firm, a little below the opening, but still showing a net gain for the day of three to thirteen points. Total sales futures were estimated at 300,000 bales. The decline, following the initial advance was encouraged by the reaction in Liverpool, favorable climatic conditions and a full movement, while the bulls were aided by rather satisfactory private crop advices, including reports of damage from boll weevil in Texas.

The other day a lady in Missouri sent us a package and it came at a most opportune time; our babe was in a serious condition; his bowels had been in bad condition for days, and nothing that we gave did any good; the second dose of "TEETHINA" gave perfect relief and he has had no further trouble. Other members of the family have used it and every dose has been a perfect success.

LET VOYAGERS REJOICE.

French Naval Officer Has Devised an Antiseasick Boat.

M. Turc, a French naval officer, has invented a boat which he says, will neither pitch nor roll, and therefore will not cause seasickness. As the roll of a wave rarely lasts longer than ten seconds in a narrow sea like the Mediterranean and fifteen seconds in larger seas like the Atlantic his vessel would have to have a counter roll lasting twenty-two seconds.

The form of the vessel, says a writer in the New York Commercial Advertiser, might be described as a combination of submarine and platform, the latter rising high above the surface of the sea. In the submarine, 300 feet long, 75 feet broad and 12 feet deep, would be placed the boilers, engines and steering gear, which would be submerged to a depth of twelve feet. From the submarine would rise vertically two floaters 200 feet long and ten feet broad, lying parallel at a distance of sixty-five feet from each other. Communication would be maintained by these floaters between the submarine and the platform, containing a cabin at a height of thirty feet above the water.

This craft would have a displacement of 6,300 tons and would be propelled at a speed of nineteen knots an hour by engines of 16,000 horsepower.

LATEST CAR FENDER.

Safety of Pedestrians Seems Assured by a German's Invention.

An electric car fender on a new principle has been invented by a German and has been tried with success in Breslau, says the New York Evening Post. The apparatus consists of a sort of brush formed of twelve rows of rattan placed under the front platform. It requires no action whatever from the motorman.

In the tests a dead deer weighing fifty kilograms was experimented with and then a large dog. In each case the obstacle was placed first with the feet toward the car and then with the back, and the car was driven at it at all speeds and braked at the moment of collision.

The body of the deer was pushed for eight or nine meters. The legs were pushed up against the body, and the collision had no serious effect. In the first test made on the dog the animal was pushed four and one-half meters. The legs were pressed up against the body, but no injury resulted from the blow. In the second instance the dog was thrown 7.7 meters and turned over three times.

The body was then examined, but it could not be seen that it had suffered any injury or damage whatever in its general condition.

Odds and Ends of Science

Probably the oldest dyestuff known to men is indigo, says the Pittsburg Gazette. It might be too much to say that Noah's garments were colored with it, but it is hardly to be doubted that Joseph's coat of many colors owed at least a good part of its brilliance to the use of this common article. Indigo has been found in the Egyptian pyramids, in the ruined cities of Babylonia and in the shops and houses of Pompeii.

Fusibility of Alloys.

Alloys are usually more fusible than the least fusible metal contained, and they are almost always heavier or denser than the average of their uncombined constituents. A remarkable exception to both rules is an alloy of 18.87 per cent of aluminium and 81.13 per cent of antimony. Both metals melt at about 650 degrees C., while the alloy requires a heat of 1,080 degrees C., and the specific gravity of the latter is only 4.218 instead of 5.225, which it would be if there were no change of volume.

One Cure For Baldness.

Some cases of baldness can be cured by lactic acid. Dr. Balzer, in the Medical Times, recommends friction of the bald part daily with a 30 per cent solution of lactic acid until the skin becomes inflamed. The treatment is discontinued until the local irritation subsides, when it is begun again.

The Most Delicate Scale.

The most delicate scale is made by fixing one end of a fine thread of glass. The atom to be weighed is placed at the free end and the degree of the bending of the thread under it is noted. This has to be done under a glass which magnifies 100 times.

NEW SHIP OF WAR.

Lawyer's Invention May Revolutionize Methods of Naval Warfare.

Charles L. Burger, a New York lawyer, has invented what is said by naval experts to be the coming boat in sea fighting. It is called the subsurface boat, so named, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, because it consists of two long, narrow boats, one immediately above the other. The higher boat is on the surface of the water; the lower one is entirely submerged. It carries the gasoline engines which are to drive the queer craft sixteen knots an hour and also carries the torpedo tube with which the craft is to throw torpedoes against ships of war.

The upper deck of this novel boat is of cellulose and unsinkable. It carries a conning tower for the pilot. This conning tower is too small to be struck with a large shot, and it carries sufficient armor to protect the pilot from small shot.

The subsurface boat is designed to fight in the open. It is supposed to be fast enough to dart in and deliver its torpedo without offering the guns of a battleship or cruiser enough exposed surface for an effective shot.

One of the boats is being built by a company organized by the inventor, and if the craft meets expectations the invention will be purchased by the United States government.

Says Pearlmaking Is Easy.

The artificial production of pearls in large quantities is a simple problem in the view of Dr. H. Lyster Jameson. One cause of pearl formation proves to be a worm, which has its origin in the cockle or "tapestry shell," from which the larvæ pass to the mussel and may be eaten with the latter by the elder or scoter, reaching maturity in the intestines of these birds. If the larvæ remain in the mussel long enough, pearls are formed. With full knowledge of the life histories of these parasites it is believed that pearl oysters or pearl mussels may be infected to any desired extent by placing them in infected company, and the infected mollusks can then be left to themselves in suitable beds until the pearls are sufficiently developed.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

AMERICAN SQUADRON AT PORTSMOUTH, ENG.

Guests of the Nation—Officers to Attend a State Ball at Buckingham Palace. Entertainment at Portsmouth.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, July 8.—Rear Admiral Cotton, Captain Hemphill of the United States flagship Kearsarge, and the other American officers who are to attend to-night's state ball at Buckingham palace, arrived in London to-day, accompanied by Rear Admiral Milne, the representative of King Edward, and took up quarters at various hotels as guests of the nation. Subsequently, in full uniform they paid a round of official visits.

The fifteen hundred American officers and men remaining at Portsmouth are being entertained in various ways, including a luncheon at the Volunteer Rifle hall, at which the mayor presided. In toasting King Edward the mayor said he believed his Majesty's efforts to promote friendship and good will between Great Britain and other countries were fully appreciated by the United States. Toasting President Roosevelt, the mayor said:

"He is held here in the highest esteem and regard. The President labors most assiduously to promote the welfare of the United States and further is actuated by a sincere desire to strengthen the bonds of friendship and concord uniting the two countries."

The final toast was to the United States navy, in which the mayor cordially welcomed the United States European squadron to Portsmouth as being further proof of the friendly feeling of President Roosevelt.

LONDON, July 8.—King Edward signally honored the officers of the American squadron to-night at the state ball given at Buckingham Palace—the climax of the visit of President Loubet. His majesty formally received Admiral Cotton, the captains of the American ships and twenty-five of the junior American officers, and Queen Alexandra later gave them the same distinction. The ball—the first since the accession of King Edward—was a brilliant function, 2,200 guests being present, including President Loubet and his suite, practically all of the ambassadors and ministers in London, the majority of the members of the royal family, prominent representatives of the nobility and of the officers of the American and French squadrons now in British waters.

To Rear Admiral Cotton, the King expressed his gratification at the visit of the squadron, and inquired if all arrangements had been made for the comfort of the American officers and sailors. Admiral Cotton replied that he had fallen among friends and every care had been taken of himself and others. His majesty had a pleasant word to say to each of the officers presented. The admiral, his captain and Staff Lieutenant Hussey were then presented to Queen Alexandra.

SOUTHERN'S FATAL WRECK.

All the Bodies Recovered—The Cause of the Disaster.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 8—The work of identification of the twenty-two dead taken from the wreck on the Southern railway at Rockfish station, twenty miles south of this city yesterday afternoon when passenger No. 35 ran into an open switch and crashed into freight No. 68, was completed at noon to-day. All the bodies have been recovered except that of Passenger Engineer Davis of Alexandria, Va.

The tracks are now clear and trains are running on schedule time. The cause of the disaster has been officially reported as inattention to orders, the freight conductor, W. B. Brubeck, reading his orders to mean that the passenger was one hour and twenty minutes late, when it should have been twenty minutes. He allowed the switch to remain open. Brubeck is insane from mental anguish.

About ten small children escaped injury, who, being foreigners, cannot tell anything about their parents, who were killed in the wreck. The little ones are being cared for by the people of the city.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE.

Annual Convention of the International Union to be Held in Atlanta.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ATLANTA, GA., July 8.—The advance guard of delegates to the thirteenth annual convention of the International Baptist Young People's Union, which will be opened in this city to-morrow, arrived here to-day. Present estimates place the attendance during the three days' session of the convention at six thousand, and delegates from every section of Canada and the United States will be present.

President John H. Chapman, of Chicago, and W. H. Creitstwell, editor of the Baptist Union, arrived this morning. The Chicago delegation, 300 strong, will arrive to-night.

A grand concert of five hundred voices was held at the Auditorium to-night preliminary to the opening session to-morrow. This chorus will participate in the exercises of the convention during its meeting.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 8.—A special to the Observer from Spartanburg, S. C., says the safe in the office of the Southern Railway at Zirconia, N. C., was blown open early this morning and $400 taken. The money belonged to the railroad and the Southern Express Company.

WAR CLOUD IN THE FAR EAST.

An Important Conference of Russian Officials Held at Port Arthur.

WAR QUESTION CONSIDERED.

Russian Policy Believed to Be to Hold Present Positions in Manchuria and to Take No Steps to Avert Hostility With Japan.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

KIN-CHAU, Opposite New Chwang, Manchuria, July 8.—All the prominent Russian officials in China, Manchuria and Korea are attending the conference at Port Arthur. Among them are Minister of War Kuropatkin; Admiral Alexieff; the Russian ministers at Pekin and Seoul; the political agents in China and Korea, including M. Pokotilioff, recently Russian financial representative at Pekin; General Desino, the military agent in China; the civil and military officers at Mukden, Harbin and Kirin and the administrator of New Chwang.

The proceedings at the conference are enveloped in profound secrecy. It is popularly supposed that the Russian officials are considering war questions. The foreign commercial officials at New Chwang and Port Arthur believe that the possibility of war is increasing steadily. The Russian policy is believed to be to hold the present positions in Manchuria, including New Chwang, and to take no steps to avert hostility with Japan if it is assured that Japan will fight unaided. The war feeling among the Japanese in North China is intensifying.

The Russian civil administrator, with the governor general of New Chwang, has commenced the erection of government buildings designed to hold all Russian offices, including the telegraph and telephone departments, in the centre of the foreign settlement, partly on land ceded by the Chinese, according to the Russian explanation, and partly on the public square, about which the foreign consulates are congregated. The residents of other nationalities are preparing to protest against this encroachment on the public square.

A Russian company completed the purchase of the river steam tug business heretofore controlled by a British company. This is regarded as an important step towards Russian control of the harbor.

SHANGHAI, July 8.—The American treaty negotiations are deadlocked, owing to the failure of the Chinese authorities at Pekin to reply to the demand for the opening of Manchurian ports to trade.

NORFOLK ENGINEERS.

Wage Scale Adopted at a Conference Held Tuesday Night.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., July 8.—The wage scale as adopted at the conference between the marine engineers and vessel owners Tuesday night, and by which the strike of the engineers is ended, is not as high as the association scale demanded on June 1st last, but it is considerably in advance of what the engineers were receiving prior to the adoption of the organization scale. Both vessel owners and engineers have expressed satisfaction over the result of the conference Tuesday night. The Old Dominion Steamship Company and the Albemarle and Chesapeake Tow Boat Company withdrew from the conference and will employ engineers on their own scales.

NEGRO CONGRESS.

Convention in Memphis—Booker T. Washington to Take Part.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 8.—The Southern Negro Congress met here to-day. President A. J. Golden, of Mississippi, called the convention to order. Booker T. Washington is expected to arrive to-morrow. The principal subject of discussion will be that of planning a way to bring about more friendly relations between the races.

The meeting was called by A. J. Golden, editor of a negro paper published in Mississippi. The congress is an off-shoot of the Southern Negro Congress held last year at Galveston, Texas. About fifty delegates are here.

LYNCHING PROBABLE.

Prominent Young Planter Murdered by a Negro Near Osceola, Ala.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

OSCEOLA, ALA., July 8.—Arthur Shadden, a prominent young planter, living about four miles south of Osceola, was shot and killed by a negro tenant on his farm at an early hour this morning. There was trouble between then in regard to an account which Shadden was trying to collect from the negro. The negro made his escape, but the sheriff and a posse are in pursuit. A lynching is probable if the negro is caught.

FIRE AT NEWBERN.

Livery Stables, Tobacco Warehouse and Other Buildings Burned.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 8.—A special to the Observer, from Newbern, N. C., says fire broke out at 10:30 to-night and destroyed Mitchell's livery stables, Scott's livery stables, the Planters' tobacco warehouse and prize house, and eight tenement houses. The whole business section of the city was threatened with destruction for a time. The fire was under control shortly after midnight. Loss $50,000; insurance unknown.

FLOOD IN ARKANSAS.

Red River Rising and Several Plantations Under Water.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TEXARKANA, ARK., July 8.—The latest news from Red River at points north of here, received this afternoon, say that it is still rising. The levee on the Hiram farm and the Sanderson place broke last night, and the result is that hundreds of acres on that and adjoining plantations are under water. Reports are that the river is slowly falling at points further north.

"Ho! for Lake Waccamaw. Special train will leave Wilmington 8 A. M. July 4th; returning leave Lake Waccamaw 7.30 P. M., arriving at Wilmington at 8.45 P. M. A delightful resort at which to spend the National Holiday. Good fishing, base ball and other attractions. Rate, 75 cents for adults: 50 cents for children."

EVANSVILLE RACE TROUBLE.

Sheriff Sent to Jeffersonville to Bring Back the Negro Murderer of Police Officer Massey for Trial.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

EVANSVILLE, IND., July 8.—Acting under orders of Judge Rasch, Sheriff Kratz left secretly this evening for the Indiana reformatory, at Jeffersonville, to bring back Lee Brown, the wounded negro who killed Patrolman Massey last Friday. It was this killing and the desire of the mob to lynch Brown that precipitated the rioting here. Brown was secretly removed to Vincennes early Sunday morning and from Vincennes to the State prison at Jeffersonville for safe keeping. How Sheriff Kratz will bring the negro here and what hour he will arrive will be kept secret if possible.

The sheriff took with him one deputy and Dr. Gilbert, who will try to prevent the negro dying from the bullet in his lung. If the negro shall be successfully placed in the jail here, his trial for the killing of Patrolman Massey will be rushed through, and unless a change of venue shall be taken, the troops will be held here until after the trial.

A venire of fifty names was drawn secretly this afternoon, from which an effort will be made to secure a jury. The court will appoint an attorney to defend Brown. The court house and jail are still guarded night and day by the Martinsvillle and Evansville companies, the latter company being stationed inside the building.

Five arrests were made to-day on grand jury presentments for the rioting Sunday night. Those under arrest are Richard Grosbeck, who was socialist candidate for city clerk; A. P. Cardwell, a furniture merchant; J. T. Zeigler, William Trimble and Jas. Steel. All were released under bond. The coroner heard evidence to-day on the shooting Monday night. He has not returned a verdict. There were no more deaths to-day.

THE JEWISH PETITION.

Presentation to the Czar of Russia Expected Within a Week.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Secretary Hay returned to Washington to-day after his conference with President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay on foreign affairs. It may be stated that the President and his Secretary of State are in absolute accord upon everything that has been done in connection with the Jewish petition, the Manchurian issues and other important pending and open questions. There has been no change of plan respecting the Jewish petition so far as the general features are concerned. Between now and the date of the presentation of the petition, which is expected to be within a week, the State Department will outline a plan which probably will look either to the dispatch of the original petition to the United States embassy at St. Petersburg for Mr. Riddle's treatment, or an inquiry may be made direct from Washington by cable and without at first dispatching the petition, as to whether it will be received.

GENERAL LONGSTREET

Dangerously Ill at His Home in Gainesville, Georgia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MACON, GA., July 8.—A Gainesville dispatch to the Telegraph says that General James Longstreet is dangerously ill and that physicians will perform an operation to-morrow for the removal of his left eye, destroyed by a cancer. On account of his age, 81, he may not be able to withstand the shock, though he has assented to the operation.

WARM WIRELETS

Two deaths occurred in Memphis yesterday as a direct result of the severe heat, a maximum temperature of 94 degrees being reached.

A Baltimore dispatch says: Cardinal Gibbons left for New York over the Pennsylvania railroad at 1:18 P. M., yesterday, on his way to Rome.

Six deaths and a score of prostrations bore witness to the advent of a hot wave in Chicago yesterday. The temperature during the afternoon reached 92 at the weather bureau.

Huntington, a nephew of the deceased millionaire. This is the first division of the $60,000,000 estate and a distribution of the Eastern properties will soon follow.

The Shoe and Leather Mercantile Agency, of Boston, has announced the assignment of the large boot and shoe manufacturing firm of Ara Cushman & Company, of Boston and Auburn, Maine. The firm did a business of $1,250,000 per annum and has liabilities estimated at between $40,000 and $500,000.

POPE'S CONDITION STILL CRITICAL.

His Life May Be Prolonged, But Hope of His Recovery is Very Slight.

GRADUALLY GROWS WEAKER.

His Doctors Criticised—Some of the Cardinals Ask That Other Physicians be Called In for Consultation. They Carry Their Point.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ROME, July 8.—The physicians in attendance upon Pope Leo at a quarter to ten o'clock this morning posted the following bulletin.

"The night passed tranquilly enough, although the Pontiff had no restorative sleep; the pulse was frequent but regular; breathing was as free as last night. However, the general condition of the patient is not tranquillizing, because of the state of depression which at intervals increases."

As can be seen by the bulletin the Pope's condition to-day is not so favorable as it was last night, due to the fact that the improvement after the operation of yesterday has not assumed the proportions the doctors wished. While the inflammation of the lungs is decreasing the patient's general condition does not improve, and there is a tendency towards a radical change for the worse. The Pontiff is extremely weak and even chloral seems to have lost its power to give the sufferer the relief of tranquil rest. Besides, what depresses the Pope is the difficulty he is experiencing in breathing. At times he appears to be upon the point of strangulation and then his breathing gradually becomes weaker until his heart apparently stops.

Another great pre-occupation of the doctors is the derangement of the patient's kidneys, as a result of which blood poisoning is feared. The outlook now is that the Pope's life may perhaps be prolonged more than could have been expected thirty-six hours ago, but the hopes of his recovery are still very small.

Doctors Criticised.

This evening Dr. Mazzoni was suddenly called out of the sick chamber by Cardinal Rampolla and a hurried whispered conversation ensued. This gave rise to all kinds of rumors, but it was soon explained that Cardinal Rampolla had taken upon himself the duty of acting as mouth-piece for some of the intimate friends and relatives of the Pope, who suggested the advisability of calling certain other doctors into consultation.

Dr. Mazzoni replied that he had not the least objection to such a consultation, but that the symptoms and course of the disease were so clear and well defined as to leave no doubt as to the diagnosis. He, therefore, was unable to see the necessity for the step proposed. No decision has yet been reached about the matter.

It became known later in the day that the motive for Dr. Mazzoni's sudden call by Cardinal Rampolla originated in what Vatican circles have already baptized as "the rebellion of the cardinals" against Dr. Lapponi. It appears that some of the cardinals complained of the doctor's treatment of the patient, thinking that Dr. Lapponi had not since the beginning detected that the Pope was suffering from an affection of the pleura, and thus, they said, allowing the disease to assume a gravity which otherwise might perhaps have been avoided. Dr. Lapponi, who is supported by Dr. Mazzoni, indignantly repudiated the idea. However, the criticising cardinals not only maintained their view, but succeeded in reaching the ear of Cardinal Rampolla. Besides this, the Pope's relatives proposed that a consultation be held with the most illustrious physicians, naming Dr. Antonio Cardarella and Dr. Guido Raccelli. But apart from the question of hurting Dr. Lapponi's feelings, further difficulty thereupon arose, owing to the existing relations between Church and State, Dr. Cardarelli, being an Italian senator, thus making him obnoxious to the Papal party. Dr. Racelli's position is even more difficult. In addition to having been a member of the Chamber of Deputies for thirty years, he is minister of commerce, industry and agriculture.

In spite of these objections, the wishes of the Pecci family were respected and it was announced that Doctors Lapponi and Mazzoni would consult with Dr. Cardarelli to-morrow evening.

Dr. Mazzoni and the Pope.

The following particulars were obtained of the doctor's visit this morning to the Pope:

"How feels his holiness?" asked Dr. Mazzoni.

"I do not feel as well; I am weaker," replied the pontiff.

"Perhaps you did not sleep sufficiently?" "No, no," answered the Pontiff. "I was better last night. I am sorry, because to-day should be a day of great work."

"Surely," Dr. Mazzoni replied, "his holiness does not intend to work?" "Certainly," answered the Pope. "I have so many things to do, but I am afraid I have not the strength."

Both of the doctors then proceeded to convince the Pope of the necessity for rest, urging him not to place obstacles in the way of his recovery.

"I shall do as you wish," said the Pope, in conclusion, with a sigh of resignation.

Afterwards his holiness expressed a desire to rise, saying he would be more comfortable in his arm-chair. The Pope's attendant, Rio Centra, then proceeded to help him to arise, but the Pope refused his assistance, saying he could still move by himself. In fact, without any help except that afforded by his cane, the Pontiff walked a few steps to his arm-chair, repeating now and then: "I am weaker, I am weaker."

Part of the work referred to by the Pope was to repeat a novena to the Madonna of the Carmelites, whose feast begins to-day. The Pope is a very devout venerator of this Madonna, always carrying her image about his neck.

The Conclave.

PARIS, July 8.—It has been stated here in dispatches from Rome that Cardinal Mathieu would in the event of the death of the Pope claim for France the ancient rite to exercise "high patronage" (the right to control) at the conclave. The correspondent of the Associated Press made an inquiry on the subject at the foreign office here and learned that the report was untrue. No such instructions have been sent to Cardinal Mathieu or to any other cardinal. The presence of Cardinal Mathieu at the Vatican is due to the fact that he is a member of the papal government which necessitates his attendance under the circumstances. His action is quite independent of any influence over the conclave.

Condition More Encouraging.

Except for the brief time he passed in the arm-chair, the Pope lay in bed throughout the day, shifting his position frequently without assistance, and occasionally taking a draught of diluted wine with the yolks of eggs. The only solid food he has taken is calve's brains and meat broth.

The later official bulletin, following a consultation between Doctors Lapponi and Mazzoni, completely contradicted the alarmist reports, and gave a most favorable statement. This was disclosed in the improved pulse, better respiration and ameliorated general condition. Dr. Mazzoni said in a conversation following the issuance of the 8:15 P. M. bulletin, that while the Pope's condition still continued desperate, recovery was not entirely impossible.

ROME, July 9.—5:35 A.M.—The Pope is asleep. The condition of his lungs is not worse. There is as yet no suspicion of serum gathering again in the pleura, but the disorder of his kidneys is disquieting.

During the early part of the night His Holiness was somewhat restless. The occasional brief periods of sleep were disturbed by difficulty in breathing. Dr. Lappani and Pope Leo's valet, Pio Centra, did their best to nourish the patient at brief intervals. The Pontiff spoke little and seemed much depressed. Chloral and caffeine were administered with good effect. About sunrise the Pontiff fell into a more restorative sleep than he had had all night.
